AROUND THE WORLD IN 48H

"Around the World in 48 Hours," is a two-day camp designed for youths, to understand global challenges while developing essential skills for the future. It combines insightful case studies on pressing issues like climate change, inequality, and mental health with public speaking training.

Your child will explore real-world problems and build content knowledge towards the oral examination. With interactive discussions and role-playing activities, participants enhance their emotional intelligence, fostering resilience and compassion. They will master public speaking fundamentals, crafting and presenting persuasive speeches on topics they are passionate about.

By the end of the camp, your child will have developed critical thinking skills, confidence in communication, and a deeper awareness of global citizenship. Give your child the opportunity to grow as a communicator and step out of their comfort zone. Enrol them in "Around the World in 48 Hours" today—where knowledge meets action and skills shape futures!
